

Journaling & Reflection:

Reflect on this section when you get home. Try to journal your responses and pray over them throughout the week...

1. Read John 4:1-14. Journal your perception of your place in the world; in our family, and in your community. Where do you see yourself fitting in?
2. Pray Galatians 2:20 as though Paul's words are your own. Allow them to digest within you until you speak them from your inner being. Take your journal a layer further. Where do your perceptions of "place" come from? Who or what leads you to think this is where you "belong?"
3. Scream 2 Corinthians 5:17 as though you were purging the words from your respiratory system. Scrawl them on top of your previous journal entries as though trying to erase them from human history.
4. Awaken to find you're already where you're going. Spend a few minutes meditating on the image of newness in your own life; wherever you are within it. Allow yourself a few minutes to empty your labels and constructions; whatever you're being told your place in the world is. Imagine for a few minutes more what a "new" life might look like; a life guided by the Spirit of the Living Christ within.
